The President
My dear Sir,
... Permit me also to express my great admiration of the thoughts offered by you, with such eloquent simplicity & appropriateness, at the consecration of the cemetery. I should be glad, if I came as near to the central idea of the occasion, in two hours, as you did in two minutes. . . .

Edward Everett

Hon. Edward Everett
My dear Sir:
Your kind note of to-day is received. In our respective parts yesterday, you could not have been excused to make a short address, nor I a long one. I am pleased to know that, in your judgment, the little I did say was not entirely a failure. . . .

A. Lincoln

This letter to President Lincoln, and his reply, refers to what celebrated moment in the history of Lincoln's presidency?

- b. Lincoln's first inaugural address in Washington on March 4, 1861
- c. Lincoln's remarks at the surrender ceremony at Appomattox Court House
- d. Lincoln remarks while debating Stephen Douglas in the 1858 Illinois Senate race 27.

With all my devotion to the Union and the feeling of loyalty and duty of an American citizen, I have not been able to make up my mind to raise my hand against my relatives, my children, my home. I have, therefore, resigned my commission in the Army, and, save in defense of my native state . . . I hope I may never be called on to draw my sword. I know you will blame me; but you must think as kindly of me as you can.

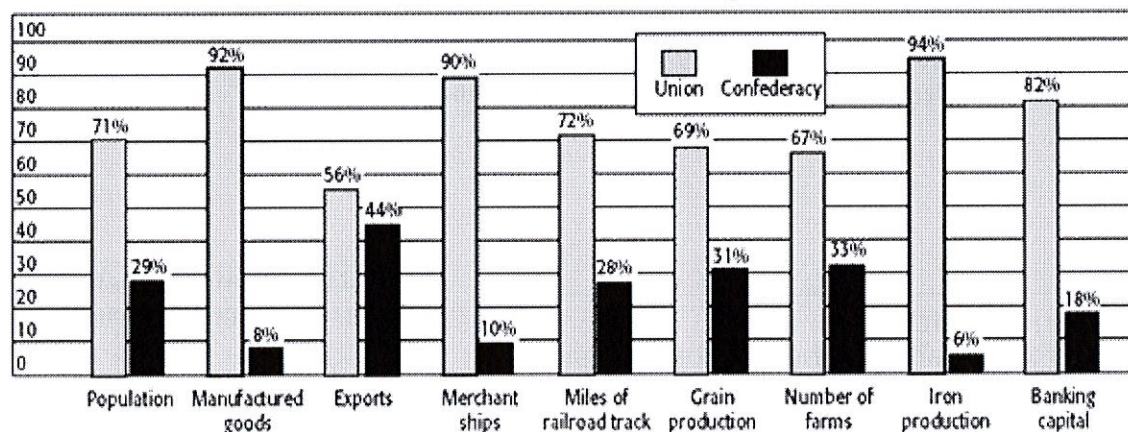

—Robert E. Lee, to his sister

From Robert E. Lee's point of view, why was he unable to remain loyal to the United States Army?

- a. He had been mistreated while in the Army and wanted revenge.
- b. His duty and loyalty to his family and his state came first in his mind.
- c. He could not bring himself to serve while Lincoln was commander-in-chief.
- d. He was a strong supporter of slavery.

29.

When the war ended many men who had been in the Union army remained in the South, intending to make it their home. . . . Others emigrated from the North, taking with them large capital, believing that the South presented fine prospects for business. . . . It so happened, and was, in fact, necessary that many of these men should be elected to office. This was their right and the natural result of the circumstances by which they were surrounded. . . ."

—Senator Oliver Morton, 1871

[A] carpet-bagger is generally understood to be a man who comes here for office sake, of an ignorant or bad character, and who seeks to array the Negroes against the whites . . . in order to get office through them. . . . [The term] does not apply to all northern men who come here. . . . We regard any republican or any man as a man of bad character, whether he is native or foreign born, who seeks to obtain office from the Negroes by exciting their passions and prejudices against the whites.

—William Manning Lowe, 1871

- b. before the Civil War, many laws were passed to determine the legality of slavery
- c. national expansion into new territories worsened the North-South conflict
- d. a balance between free and slave states satisfied everyone

34.

I would save the Union. I would save it the shortest way under the Constitution. The sooner the national authority can be restored; the nearer the Union will be "the Union as it was." If there be those who would not save the Union, unless they could at the same time save slavery, I do not agree with them. If there be those who would not save the Union unless they could at the same time destroy slavery, I do not agree with them. My paramount object in this struggle is to save the Union, and is not either to save or destroy slavery. If I could save the Union without freeing any slave, I would do it, and if I could save it by freeing all the slaves, I would do it; and if I could save it by freeing some and leaving others alone I would also do that. . . .

I have here stated my purpose according to my view of official duty; and I intend no modification of my oft-expressed personal wish that all men, every where could be free.

—Abraham Lincoln, in a letter to Horace Greeley, August 22, 1862

Based on this letter excerpt, what was President Lincoln's primary goal as president?

- a. He believed that the people's election had authorized him to eliminate slavery from the United States immediately.
- b. Lincoln was confused about what his authority was as president.
- c. Lincoln wanted the states to take the lead in resolving both the crises of the Civil War and the future of slavery.
- d. He believed his authority as president gave him the responsibility to protect and preserve the Union first, in the best manner possible, placing his personal feelings aside.

Abraham Lincoln, Gettysburg Address (1863)

Four score and seven years ago our fathers brought forth, upon this continent, a new nation, conceived in Liberty, and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal.

Now we are engaged in a great civil war, testing whether that nation, or any nation so conceived, and so dedicated, can long endure. We are met here on a great battlefield of that war. We have come to dedicate a portion of it as a final resting place for those who here gave their lives so that our nation might live. It is altogether fitting and proper that we should do this.

But in a larger sense we can not dedicate—we can not consecrate—we can not hallow this ground. The brave men, living and dead, who struggled here, have consecrated it far above our poor power to add or detract. The world will little note, nor long remember, what we say here, but can never forget what they did here. It is for us, the living, rather to be dedicated here to the unfinished work which they have, thus far, so nobly carried on. It is rather for us to be here dedicated to the great task remaining before us—that from these honored dead we take increased devotion to that cause for which they here gave the last full measure of devotion—that we here highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain; that this nation shall have a new birth of freedom; and that government of the people, by the people, and for the people, shall not perish from the earth.

President Lincoln connected the sufferings of individual soldiers with the larger purposes of the Civil War. According to Lincoln, these purposes were to ____.

- Mesozoic     6. An era of geologic time when Pangea broke apart
- Cenozoic     7. An era of geologic time that means “Age of the Mammals”

3f. Place the following events in Geologic Time in numerical order.

Oldest events are given the #1 and the most recent events a #4 - The first is done for you as an example:)

Life	Life	Geology	Life
  4   1 st birds	  1   Age of Fish	  3   Pangaea breaks apart	  3   1st flowering plants
  3   1 st reptiles	  3   Age of Reptiles	  1   Warm, shallow seas	  2   Pines & Cycads flourish
  1   Early fish	  2   Age of Amphibians	  2   Coal forming swamps	  1   Moss
  2   1 st amphibians	  4   Age of Mammals	  4   Himalayan, Alps, Rocky Mountains form	  4   First grasses

4. Inside the Earth:

4a. How do oceanic & continental crust differ?

Continental	Oceanic
older	younger (subduction zones)
thicker	thinner
less dense	more dense
found on land	found under the ocean

4b. How do scientists study the mantle?

Scientists can't study directly so it is studied indirectly by using earthquake waves, studies of heat flow & experiments with rocks & minerals.

4c. What is special about the asthenosphere?

Due to temperature & pressure this rock layer acts like a very thick liquid and can flow slowly. This is where convection currents occur that move the plates.

4d. How are the inner & outer cores different?

Inner core	Outer core
solid	Liquid
not as thick	Thicker
Hotter	Less hot

5. Plate Tectonics: Plate tectonic processes cause gradual changes to Earth's surface.

5a. The famous scientist to propose the Continental Drift Theory was Alfred Wegener (1912)

5b. The 3 types of plate boundaries: In the table below, draw the arrows of how the plates move in relation to each other and an example of geologic structures that may form due to each boundary.

	Convergent Plate Boundary	Divergent Plate Boundary	Transform Plate Boundary
Arrows:	→ ←	← →	Can't type it but draw side to side
Structures that may form:	Continental-Continental Mountain Building  Continental-Oceanic Volcanic mountains Trenches  Oceanic-Oceanic Volcanic mountains Deep trenches	On land: rift valleys  In ocean: Seafloor spreading Mid-Ocean Ridges Rift Valleys	Faults - Cracks in earth's crust (earthquakes)

5c. Which tectonic processes form a new crust?
Convergent & Divergent boundaries
(C-O & O-O)

Which tectonic processes destroy crust?
Convergent boundaries
(subduction zones!)

6. Earthquakes & Volcanoes: These cause sudden changes that may quickly change the Earth's surface.

6a. Most earthquakes happen along plate boundaries as pressure builds when rocks move past each other.

6b. The EQ's effect of the shaking on the earth is known as the intensity of the EQ and is measured using the Mercalli scale.

6c. The EQ's energy released is known as the magnitude of the EQ and is based on the largest seismic wave generated by the EQ. It is measured using the Richter scale (used by local news).

6d. As magma moves upward to make underground chambers, it may build pressure until the rock breaks on the earth's surface to form a crater.

6e. What is the difference in the 2 types of volcanoes?

Cinder Cone Volcano: <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>Violent eruptions</li><li>Lava contains water, gases, &amp; silica</li><li>Often forms mountains with steep sides</li></ul>	Shield Volcano: <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>Not violent eruptions</li><li>Lots of lava flows slow and steady</li><li>Lava is thicker &amp; contains less water, gases &amp; silica</li><li>Flat, broad volcano with gentle slopes</li></ul>
---	--

6f. What type of plate boundary is NOT associated with volcanoes? Transform plate boundaries

6g. Describe the ring of fire - A circle of plate boundaries around the Pacific Ocean that has frequent volcanic eruptions - there are many subduction zones due to the Pacific plate being oceanic crust.

6h. Describe how the Hawaiian Islands form - A hot spot is a region in the upper mantle that produces intense heat that melts the crust above it resulting in volcanic activity. This hot spot stays in one location but a tectonic plate may move over it and as it moves, new volcanoes form behind existing volcanoes making a chain of volcanoes. So, the center of the Pacific plate is moving over a hot spot that has resulted in the Hawaiian Islands.

ANSWERS COPY of REVIEW and PREPARE- Study Guide 8th English Language Arts-

Assessment Date 5/7/20

To prepare for the final ELA assessment, be familiar with the following speeches:

- On Women's Right to Vote, Susan B Anthony, 1873
- 1960 Presidential Election, Nixon and Kennedy debate transcript
- The Civil Rights Act of 1964, Lyndon Johnson

1. 8.RI.4 Define the following:

Analogy-comparison between two things usually to clarify or deepen meaning

(example: The sword is a warrior's weapon and the pen is a writer's weapon.)

When Anthony refers to what a democratic society stands for... and points out what the society of her day is actually doing to half of its citizens, it is an analogy.

Allusion-when an author references another event, person, or work that most people would recognize (example: Your work is as famous as the Mona Lisa.)

Johnson's speech refers to a "revolutionary" time in history to help make his point.

Tone- the approach or attitude an author uses; sentimental, dark, humorous, neutral

(example: You forgot to shut the garage door and the neighbor's pet lion is now curled up in her convertible.. By the tone of your mom's voice as she tells you, you can tell whether she thinks this is funny or frantic.)

Mood- is how you (reader/listener) feel, mood is developed through setting, theme, word choice-diction, and the author's tone (example: from Pickwick Papers, Charles

Dickens- "The river, reflecting the clear blue of the sky, glistened and sparkled as it flowed noiselessly on." This mood is calm and peaceful.)

Connotative- feeling you associate with the word (example: blue could be a color but if your friend says they are feeling blue you realize the association of sad to the word blue, OR let us imagine you are visiting someone's home. If you were called a guest or an intruder, the specific word choice/diction they use carries a different feeling because of the connotation with the word.

Denotative- Dictionary Definition (focus on the D's for easy remembrance)

(example: The denotative dictionary definition of blue is a color. The connotative definition of blue is sad.)

Rhetorical questions- asked to emphasize a point where the speaker doesn't really expect an answer (example: Is rain wet? Can fish swim? ) Anthony asks a question but she was not expecting an answer. It simplifies her argument with a clear YES!

2. What helps to determine an author's point of view? 8.RI.6

Tips to find the purpose or thesis- look for repeated words/phrases as well as topic sentences or infer meaning by gathering evidence from examples and details given.

In Susan B. Anthony's speech she is using her persuasive skills to inform listeners to understand what?

3. Give an example of a counterclaim from any one of the three speeches included.

8.RI.6 A counterclaim acknowledges the opposing point of view.

(example: Some say that chinchillas make the best pets, but I say they are expensive, their hair gets everywhere, they die young, and they make your house stink.) Making a counterclaim is necessary to address the opposite point of view.

(example: "It is a downright mockery to talk to women about the blessings of liberty while..." When a speaker addresses the opposing point of view it shows his or her point of view reflects thought and purpose and was carefully considered- not a haphazard thought. This strengthens the seriousness of her claim.

4. Select the line(s) where the makes connections between individuals, ideas, or events through a comparison or analogy. 8.RI.3

An allusion to a famous document, point in history, famous person known for a particular event/decision in history that the general public would recognize would reinforce or give weight and validity to the purpose of his or her speech wouldn't it!

When Anthony refers to what a democracy is and how half of the democratic nation that we are supposed to be is treated -what does that tell us?

5. Select one of the speeches. Read it aloud and consider any specific words that stand out to you. What is the impact of diction (specifically chosen words and phrases) on meaning and tone? 8.RI.4

If you were called a guest or an intruder, the specific word choice/diction used carries a different feeling because of the connotation with the word. Would you rather be a guest or an intruder? In the case of Anthony's speech she uses the dictionary definition to define what...? In the 1960's presidential debate, what makes us doubt the confidence of the speaker just from reading the transcript (not from watching the television version)?

ANSWERS COPY of REVIEW and PREPARE- Study Guide English Language Arts-

6. Fill out a graphic organizer to compare/contrast the differences in effectiveness of a speech when only listening to the speaker, listening and watching the speaker, and simply reading the text. 8.RI.5

When I hear your voice I can sense your attitude about the subject and know the intensity of your feelings-or whether you really don't care.

When I see you speak, the meaning is deepened with nonverbal gestures, facial expressions, and mannerisms which communicate purpose or lack of purpose.

When I read the text of your speech, I may make something out of what you said that you didn't intend at all. For example, have you ever read an email and thought someone was mad at you when they weren't? Have you ever read a text and thought someone was pleased with you when it was actually the opposite?

7. Consider the impression made with regard to the advantages and disadvantages of using different mediums (print, digital, multimedia) in a performance. 8.RI.7 Seeing and hearing makes a difference in what an audience takes from a speech. Just look at the Kennedy/Nixon debate! You have an online friend you have never seen. They claim in print to be fourteen but one day you find out they are eight years old! Seeing the speaker makes a huge difference after you've only read what they typed. Would Kennedy have been voted President without that crucial televised presidential debate? What did Kennedy do to appear in good health? Nixon's knee injury, hospital stay, extensive touring schedule, and lack of preparation for stand out attire combined to make Nixon appear how to the American public?

On Women's Right to Vote

Author: Susan B. Anthony

Date: 1873

Annotation: Susan B. Anthony was a strong proponent for women's rights. This speech was given after her arrest for casting an illegal vote in the presidential election of 1872. She was tried and then fined $100 but refused to pay.

Document: Friends and fellow citizens: I stand before you tonight under indictment for the alleged crime of having voted at the last presidential election, without having a lawful right to vote. It shall be my work this evening to prove to you that in thus voting, I not only committed no crime, but, instead, simply exercised my citizen's rights, guaranteed to me and all United States citizens by the National Constitution, beyond the power of any state to deny.

The preamble of the Federal Constitution says:

"We, the people of the United States, in order to form a more perfect union, establish justice, insure domestic tranquility, provide for the common defense, promote the general welfare, and secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity, do ordain and establish this Constitution for the United States of America."

It was we, the people; not we, the white male citizens; nor yet we, the male citizens; but we, the whole people, who formed the Union. And we formed it, not to give the blessings of liberty, but to secure them; not to the half of ourselves and the half of our posterity, but to the whole people - women as well as men. And it is a downright mockery to talk to women of their enjoyment of the blessings of liberty while they are denied the use of the only means of securing them provided by this democratic-republican government - the ballot.

For any state to make sex a qualification that must ever result in the disfranchisement of one entire half of the people, is to pass a bill of attainder, or, an ex post facto law, and is therefore a violation of the supreme law of the land. By it the blessings of liberty are forever withheld from women and their female posterity.

To them this government has no just powers derived from the consent of the governed. To them this government is not a democracy. It is not a republic. It is an odious aristocracy; a hateful oligarchy of sex; the most hateful aristocracy ever established on the face of the globe; an oligarchy of wealth, where the rich govern the poor. An oligarchy of learning, where the educated govern the ignorant, or even an oligarchy of race, where the Saxon rules the African, might be endured; but this oligarchy of sex, which makes father, brothers, husband, sons, the oligarchs over the mother and sisters, the wife and daughters, of every household - which ordains all men sovereigns, all women subjects, carries dissension, discord, and rebellion into every home of the nation.

Webster, Worcester, and Bouvier all define a citizen to be a person in the United States, entitled to vote and hold office.

The only question left to be settled now is: Are women persons? And I hardly believe any of our opponents will have the hardihood to say they are not. Being persons, then, women are citizens; and no state has a right to make any law, or to enforce any old law, that shall abridge their privileges or immunities. Hence, every discrimination against women in the constitutions and laws of the several states is today null and void.

Susan B. Anthony-Women's Rights Activist

p 3 of 11

1. What is Anthony's purpose for the speech? 8.RI.6 *

Mark only one oval.

- to argue that citizens should pass the 19th Amendment
- to argue that women should have the right to vote
- to argue that white men are the true and only citizens of the US.

2. On what common knowledge does Anthony base her argument? 8.RI.4 * 1 point

Check all that apply.

- The Declaration of Independence
- The Bill of Rights
- The US Constitution

3. How does Anthony use the Constitution to support her argument? 8.RI.4 * 1 point

- As an allusion to reinforce her purpose
- As an analogy to state conflicting viewpoints.
- As irrelevant support for her purpose

4. Which of the following quotes strongly identifies the conflicting viewpoint? 1 point
8.RI.6 *

Mark only one oval.

- "It shall be my work this evening to prove to that in thus voting, I simply exercised my citizen's rights..."
- "It was we, the people; not we, the white male citizens; ...who formed the Union."
- "And it is a downright mockery to talk to women of their enjoyment of the blessings of liberty while they are denied the use of the only means of securing them provided by this democratic-republican government-the ballot."

5. In the 6th paragraph, how does Anthony use the denotation of the word "citizen" to support her argument? 8.RI.4 * 1 point

- To support her claim that women should vote
- To support the conflicting viewpoint that women should not vote
- The support is not relevant to her claim.

6. In the 5th paragraph, Anthony compares the US treatment of many people to an aristocratic government (ruled by elite, or privileged upper class). How does this analogy strengthen Anthony's claim? 8.RI.3 * 1 point

Mark only one oval.

- The analogy shows women were in charge of the household.
- The analogy shows the US does not intend to stay a democratic-republican country.
- The analogy shows men and women are not treated equally.

7. How does the rhetorical question Anthony uses in the conclusion persuade the listener? 8.RI.6 * 1 point

- simplifies her argument
- makes the reader seem ignorant
- restates her purpose

Try It

Use this passage to answer questions I-7.

Read the passage. As you read, pay attention to how the characteristics of print media affect your judgment of the events described. Use the questions to help you.

The 1960 presidential election between Republican Vice President Richard Nixon and Democratic Senator John F. Kennedy featured the first presidential debates to be broadcast live on television. The passage below is an excerpt from the transcript of the first debate, which was held on September 26, 1960.

MODERATOR: Mr. Vice President, your campaign stresses the value of your eight-year experience. Would you tell us please specifically what major proposals you have made in the last eight years that have been adopted by the administration?

MR. NIXON: First, after each of my foreign trips, I have made recommendations that have been adopted. For example, after my first trip abroad—abroad, I strongly recommended that we increase our exchange programs particularly as they related to exchange of persons of leaders in the labor field and in the information field. After my trip to South America, I made recommendations that a lending agency be set up which the South American much better than a lend—than to participate in the lending agencies which treated all the countries of the world the same. After my trip abroad to Hungary, I made some recommendations with regard to the Hungarian refugee situation which were adopted, not only by the president but some of them were enacted into law by the Congress. Within the administration, as a chairman of the President's Committee on Price Stability and Economic Growth, I have had the opportunity to make recommendations which have been adopted within the administration and which I think have been reasonably effective. I know Senator Kennedy suggested in a speech yesterday that that committee had not been particularly effective. I would only suggest that since that committee has been formed, the price line has been held very well within the United States.

When viewed in print, how effective is Mr. Nixon's response?

MR. KENNEDY: Well, I would say in the latter that the—and that's what I found uh—somewhat unsatisfactory about the figures uh—Mr. Nixon, that you used in your previous speech, when you talked about the Truman Administration. You—Mr. Truman came to office in nineteen uh—forty-four and at the end of the war, and uh—difficulties that were facing the United States during that period of transition—1946 when price controls were lifted—so it's rather difficult to use an overall figure taking those seven and a half years and comparing them to the last eight years. In regard to uh—price stability uh—I'm not aware that that committee did produce recommendations that ever were certainly before the Congress from the point of view of legislation in regard to controlling prices. In regard to the exchange of students and labor unions, I am chairman of the subcommittee on Africa, and I think that one of the most unfortunate phases of our policy towards that country was the very minute number of exchanges that we had. I think it's true of Latin America also. We did come forward with a program of students for the Congo of over three hundred which was more than the federal government had for all of Africa the previous year, so that I don't think that uh—we have moved at least in those two areas with sufficient vigor.

Notice that the transcript of Mr. Kennedy's response includes a number of uhs and other pauses. How does this make you feel about his performance in the debate?

How might your judgment of this debate be affected if you were actually able to see and hear the candidates speaking?

1. Notice that the transcript of Mr. Kennedy's response includes a number of uhs and other pauses. How does this make the reader feel about his performance in the debate? 8.RI.4 *

1 point

p 7 of 11

Mark only one oval.

- He was unsure of himself.
- His answer was untruthful.
- His answer is effective.

2. When viewed in print from the transcript, how effective is Mr. Nixon's response? 8.RI.5 *

1 point

Mark only one oval.

- His answer is more effective.
- His answer is inaccurate.
- His answer is less persuasive.

3. According to the second passage, how was Kennedy able to use the medium of television to his advantage? 8.RI.7 *

1 point

Mark only one oval.

- To capitalize on his persuasive skills
- To capitalize on his appearance
- To capitalize on his speaking skills

4. Television cameras and lights have the ability to bring out the best and worst in a person's appearance. What impression did Kennedy's appearance make on voters? 8.RI.7 *

1 point

Mark only one oval.

- He was young and healthy.
- He would make an excellent president.
- His appearance made no impression because not a lot of households had a television set.

5. People can be judged on their appearance rather than their knowledge. 1 point how would this impression of Kennedy have been different if coverage of the debate were limited to just transcript? 8.RI.7 *

p8 of 11

Mark only one oval.

- People still would have thought Kennedy was the best man for the job because he said "uh" a lot just like regular people do.
- Kennedy's charisma would not have translated into words.
- The transcript proved Kennedy knew what he was talking about.

6. Notice that radio listeners judged the debate in favor of Nixon. What does 1 point that tell you about Nixon's speaking performance? 8.RI.7 *

Mark only one oval.

- The training and practice Kennedy had showed Nixon did not care about how he looked or sounded to the American people.
- Nixon was nervous because he had never spoken in front of an audience before.
- Nixon had knowledge and confidence in what he was saying.

7. Many newspaper accounts also gave the edge to Nixon. What does that tell 1 point you about the details of each candidate's message? 8.RI.7 *

Mark only one oval.

- Newspaper editors prefer Republican presidential candidates over Democratic presidential candidates.
- Nixon's experience allowed him to express more detailed solutions to the problems of the world.
- Kennedy's message was told like a story teller. Newspaper editors like to tell stories so the lack of details wasn't an issue.

President Lyndon Johnson-Civil Rights Act of 1964 Use the passage to answer 1-5.

The Civil Rights Act of 1964 was a landmark piece of legislation in the United States that outlawed racial segregation in schools, public places, and employment. Before signing this Act, President Lyndon Johnson urged the American people to support this new law.

p 9 of 11

I am about to sign into law the Civil Right Act of 1964. I want to take this occasion to talk to you about what that law means to every American.

5 One hundred and eighty-eight years ago this week a small band of valiant men began a long struggle for freedom. They pledged their lives, their fortunes, and their sacred honor not only to found a nation, but to forge an ideal of freedom—not only for political independence, but for personal
10 liberty—not only to eliminate foreign rule, but to establish the rule of justice in the affairs of men.

That struggle was a turning point in our history. Yet those who founded our country knew that freedom would be secure only if each generation 15 fought to renew and enlarge its meaning.

Americans of every race and color have died in battle to protect our freedom. Americans of every race and color have worked to build a nation of widening opportunities. Now our generation of 20 Americans has been called on to continue the unending search for justice within our own borders.

We believe that all men are created equal. Yet many are denied equal treatment.

25 We believe that all men have certain unalienable rights. Yet many Americans do not enjoy those rights.

We believe that all men are entitled to the blessings of liberty. Yet millions are being deprived 30 of those blessings—not because of their own failures, but because of the color of their skin.

It cannot continue. Our constitution, the foundation of our Republic, forbids it. The 35 principles of our freedom forbid it. Morality forbids it. And the law I will sign tonight forbids it.

The purpose of the law is simple.

It does not restrict the freedom of any American, so long as he respects the rights of others.

40 It does not give special treatment to any citizen.

It does say the only limit to a man's hope for happiness, and for the future of this children, shall be his own ability.

This Civil Rights Act is a challenge to all of us to go
45 to work in our communities and our States, in our homes and in our hearts, to eliminate the last vestiges<sup>1</sup> of injustice in our beloved country.

So tonight I urge every public official, every religious leader, every business and professional 50 man, every workingman, every housewife—I urge every American—to join in this effort to bring justice and hope to all our people—and to bring peace to our land.

My fellow citizens, we have come now to a time of 55 testing. We must not fail.

Let us close the springs of racial poison. Let us pray for wise and understanding hearts. Let us lay aside irrelevant differences and make our Nation whole. Let us hasten that day when our unmeasured 60 strength and our unbounded spirit will be free to do the great works ordained for this Nation by the just and wise God who is the Father of us all.

Thank you and goodnight.

1. In paragraph two, Johnson alludes to what important time in American History? 8.RI.4 * 1 point

Mark only one oval.

- Civil War
- War of 1812
- Revolutionary War

2. How does Johnson's use of the allusion in paragraph two strengthen his argument? 8.RI.4 * 1 point

Mark only one oval.

- To provide sound reasoning for why he is signing the Civil Rights Act.
- To explain why the US needed a Civil Rights Act.
- To make sure his audience knows vital historical moments in US history.

3. Why does Johnson make the allusions in lines 23, 25, & 28 of his speech? 8.RI.4 * 1 point

Mark only one oval.

- To contrast what US citizens believe to what is reality for many citizens.
- To show how he could take evidence form other texts to improve his diction and make his point.
- Referring to an important document in history to make his point shows the connections from one point in history to another.

4. What is the purpose of Johnson's speech? 8.RI.6 *

1 point

Mark only one oval.

- To inform the public Johnson was going to change voting laws.
- To convince the American public the time had come to change social thinking.
- To shame the public into doing what the American president was asking them to do.

5. How does the repetition in the last paragraph help Johnson appeal to the listener? 8.RI.4

1 point

Mark only one oval.

- Johnson wants to show change is something we must do together.
- Repetition provides flow and rhythm to a speech. This inspires confidence.
- All speeches have repetition. It's a requirement.

p1 of 5

1. Solve the following equation.

1 point

$$17 - \frac{1}{9}x = 10$$

- x = - 63
- x = 63
- x = -243
- x = 243

2. Solve the following equation. *

1 point

$$4.8x + 13 = 1$$

- x = - 2.5
- x = 2.5
- x = 2.9
- x = - 3.4

3. Solve the following equation. *

1 point

$$-4 + w + 17 - \frac{2}{3}w = 16$$

- w = 12
- w = - 12
- w = - 9
- w = 9

4. Solve the following equation. *

1 point

$$-12c - 4 + 7.5c - 11 = -6$$

- c = -2
- c = 2
- c = 7
- c = -7

Pre-fill responses, then click "Get link"

5. Solve the following equation. *

1 point

$$-4x + 6(4x - 3) = -8$$

- $x = 6$
- $x = -6$
- $x = -1/2$
- $x = 1/2$

6. Find  $x$ , the missing side length in the right triangle. *

1 point

- 85
- 68
- 41
- 113

7. Find  $x$ , the missing side length in the right triangle. *

1 point

- 13.8
- 16.1
- 22.3
- 19.7

8. Find  $x$ , the missing side length in the right triangle. *

1 point

- 14.1
- 16.7
- 22.8
- 28.2

Pre-fill responses, then click "Get link"

9. Is the triangle shown below a right triangle? *

1 point

Yes

No

10. Do the triangle side lengths below form a right triangle? *

1 point

5, 7.5, 2.5

Yes

No

Use the formulas below for problems 1-5 on this Google Form. This is not a question, just a reminder of the formulas.

Volume of cylinders:  $V = \pi r^2 h$

Volume of cones:  $V = \frac{1}{3} \pi r^2 h$

Volume of spheres:  $V = \frac{4}{3} \pi r^3$

Your answer

1. Find the volume of the cylinder below. Use 3.14 for pi. Round to the nearest whole number if necessary. *

1 point

- 2,981 mm cubed
- 4,823 mm cubed
- 1,536 mm cubed
- 6,493 mm cubed

2. Find the volume of the cylinder below. Use 3.14 for pi. Round to the nearest whole number if necessary. *

1 point

- 8,218 in cubed
- 7,772 in cubed
- 2,830 in cubed
- 1,943 in cubed

3. Find the volume of the cone below. Use 3.14 for pi. Round to the nearest whole number if necessary. *

1 point

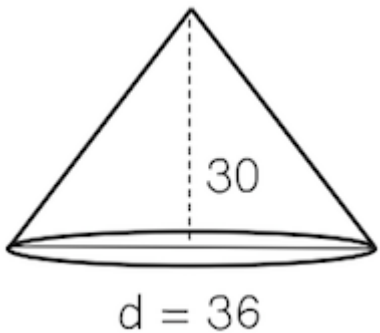

- 46 in cubed
- 54 in cubed
- 183 in cubed
- 97 in cubed

4. Find the volume of the cone below. Use 3.14 for pi. Round to the nearest whole number if necessary. *

- 13,281 units cubed
- 10,174 units cubed
- 122,083 units cubed
- 97,392 units cubed

5. Find the volume of the sphere below. Use 3.14 for pi. Round to the nearest whole number if necessary. *

- 44,580 units cubed
- 7,282 units cubed
- 5,573 units cubed
- 2,172 units cubed

9. Several high school students were surveyed and asked if they had a job and if they had their own car. Using the two-way table below, answer the question: Of the students surveyed, how many have a job? *

1 point

	CAR	NO CAR	TOTAL
JOB	6	1	7
NO JOB	5	5	10
TOTAL	11	6	17

- 17
- 7
- 14

8th Grade Math Assessment

* Required

1. What is your LAST name? *

---

2. What class period do you have Math? *

Mark only one oval.

3. 1. Solve the following equation. (Hint: Do not forget to combine like terms) *

1 point

$$34 = -2 + 9x + 16 + x$$

Mark only one oval.

$x = 1$

$x = 1/2$

$x = 2$

$x = -4$

4. 2. Solve the following equation. *

$$-8x - 3(2x + 1) = 67$$

Mark only one oval.

- x = -5
- x = 5
- x = 8
- x = -33

5. 3. Which is the correct first step to solve the linear equation shown? *

1 point

$$15 - 2.5x = 40$$

Mark only one oval.

- Add 2.5 to both sides
- Subtract 15 from both sides
- Add 15 to both sides
- Divide -2.5 from both sides

6. 4. Solve the following two-step equation. *

1 point

$$18 = 5m + 3$$

Mark only one oval.

- m = 6
- m = 26
- m = 4.2
- m = 3

1 point

7. 5. Solve the following equation. *

$$-0.2(25x + 5) - 5 = 4$$

Mark only one oval.

x = 6

x = -6

x = 2

x = -2

8. 6. Find x, the missing side length in the right triangle. *

1 point

Mark only one oval.

9. 7. Find the missing side length of the right triangle. *

Mark only one oval.

- 24
- 27.9
- 16
- 8.2

10. 8. Find the missing side length of the right triangle. Round to the nearest tenth. *

Mark only one oval.

- 6.6
- 22.0
- 15.6
- 12.8

1 point

11. 9. Is the triangle shown below a right triangle? *

Mark only one oval.

Yes

No

12. 10. Could the side lengths below make up a right triangle? *

1 point

20, 29, 21

Mark only one oval.

Yes

No

13. 11. What is the volume of the cylinder below? Use 3.14 for pi. *

Volume of cylinders:  $V = \pi r^2 h$

Mark only one oval.

- 12,381 inches cubed
- 8,645 inches cubed
- 9,420 inches cubed
- 1,884 inches cubed

14. 12. What is the volume of the cylinder below? Use 3.14 for pi. Round to the nearest tenth. *

1 point

Volume of cylinders:  $V = \pi r^2 h$

Mark only one oval.

- 100.5 inches cubed
- 93.2 inches cubed
- 401.9 inches cubed
- 322.4 inches cubed

15. 13. What is the volume of the cone below? Use 3.14 for pi. Round to the nearest tenth. *

Volume of cones:  $V = \frac{1}{3} \pi r^2 h$

Mark only one oval.

- 20.9 ft cubed
- 7.4 ft cubed
- 5.2 ft cubed
- 18.1 ft cubed

16. 14. What is the volume of the cone below? Use 3.14 for pi. Round to the nearest tenth. *

Volume of cones:  $V = \frac{1}{3} \pi r^2 h$

Mark only one oval.

- 414.5 units cubed
- 1,657.9 units cubed
- 621.1 units cubed
- 1,243.4 units cubed

17. 15. What is the volume of the sphere below? Use 3.14 for pi. *

Volume of spheres:  $V = \frac{4}{3} \pi r^3$

Mark only one oval.

- 3,129 units cubed
- 1,436 units cubed
- 783 units cubed
- 11,488 units cubed

18. 16. Which scatter plot shows both positive and linear association? *

1 point

Mark only one oval.

A

D

19. 17. What type of association does the scatter plot show? *

Mark only one oval.

- Positive Association
 Negative Association
 No Association

20. 18. What type of association would you expect to see between the following variables? *

1 point

1 ST VARIABLE	2 ND VARIABLE
A person's height	A person's shoe size

Mark only one oval.

- Positive Association
 Negative Association
 No Association

21. 19. A group of middle schoolers were asked what grade they were in and if they preferred video, games, sports or neither. The results are shown in the two-way table below. How many more 8th graders than 7th graders preferred video games? *

	VIDEO GAMES	SPORTS	NEITHER	TOTAL
6 TH GRADE	4	6	1	11
7 TH GRADE	2	7	3	12
8 TH GRADE	7	5	1	13
